

MEASURING FOR YOUR OWN CURTAINS...

Measuring for curtains is very easy, but there are a few things you can do to make sure the measurements are reliable;

- * Always use a steel tape when measuring as cloth or plastic measures may have stretched with use
- * When measuring the drop from the rail to your floor, measure at several points along the length of the rail, floors can be uneven and sometimes rails are not quite level

MEASURING THE CURTAIN DROP...

Curtains can be hung either to the floor, to your window-sill, or to the top of a radiator dimension A, B or C in the diagram below.

Measurements

A = drop _____

B = drop _____

C = drop _____

D = drop _____

E = width _____

F = width _____
